HOTEL GEORGETTE

BEAUBOURG CHATELET – PARIS’S THIRD ARRONDISSEMENT

The Marais and Beaubourg districts

The Georgette Hotel is situated in the Beaubourg district, famous for its marketplace and its architecture dating back to France’s sovereign period. This brightly coloured district showcases its history alongside its modern art museum and fashion designers. This unusual juxtaposition illustrates the rich diversity of Paris’s third arrondissement. The beautiful gardens located on the former site of the Halles marketplace offer visitors pleasant walks all year round.

Not far from here is the unmissable Marais district and its animated streets. Visitors are sure to appreciate exploring its paved lanes and attractive gardens. Contemporary artists and top fashion designers alike have chosen to settle in this unusual Parisian district.

During your stay at the Georgette Hotel, take advantage of its privileged location to discover the legendary Paris attractions, such as the Notre Dame cathedral, just a few metres away on foot, the Sacré-Coeur Basilica in Montmartre and its exceptional view, as well as the Place des Vosges and the Saint-Germain district.
